ANOTHER LEASE ON HIS LIFE

ALBERT T. PATRICK AGAIN ESCAPES THE DEATH CHAIR.

By Order of Justice Day He Cannot Be Executed Before Next Fall. Full Bench of Supreme Court Must Pass on the Case.

Canton, Ohio, June 13.—Through an order signed today by Justice Day of the United States supreme court, Albert T. Patrick will certainly escape the electric chair until next fall, and the greatest fight against execution on record is likely to be indefinitely prolonged.

Justice Day's signature carries the case over until the supreme court convenes in Washington in October, and then the full court must pass upon the issues involved, which may require some weeks. Until then at least Patrick may not be put to death for the murder of William Marsh Rice in September, 1900.

William Lindsay, formerly United States senator from Kentucky, reached here today to present the petition for a writ of error to Justice Day and he had a local attorney to assist him. A justice of the supreme court has it within his power and discretion to sign such a writ, provided that federal issues have been raised in state courts—that is, that a defendant's constitutional rights have been invaded and that the fact has been called to the attention of the state court.

The mere allegation of mistakes in the trial is not sufficient, there must be sufficient evidence to convince the justice of a probability to win on appeal. The writ of error is accompanied by a supersedeas or order superseding the state judgment until the decision of the highest tribunal of the United States is given. The effect of the federal writ is not unlike that of a certificate of reasonable doubt in the New York state practice, merely holding up the judgment pending appeal.

Justice Day did not make public the papers upon which the writ was granted and he made no opinion public, so the case stands that upon the papers presented he held that there was a proper basis for review by the entire court.

Precious, Yet Costless—Pure Air.

There is no menace to vitality and to the sum and the value of the products of vital energy so continuously imminent, so insidious, so effectively active as are the invisible wastes of the body. The dead by the weapons of the world's battlefields are few compared with those whose lives have been either blighted or prematurely ended because of failure to maintain the body in a correct relation to the atmospheric source of abundant energy waiting to be transformed into vital force and who have died for want of proper breath. He who would live at his best must breathe air at its purest. There is no material necessity to life greater than that of pure air. There is nothing so priceless and yet so costless as air. There is no financial investment which does or can yield so sure and so large returns as money wisely expended for pure air.—Professor S. H. Woodbridge in Good Housekeeping.

A man who is in perfect health, so he can do an honest day's work when necessary, has much for which he should be thankful. Mr. L. C. Rodgers, of Branchton, Pa., writes that he was not only unable to work, but he couldn't stoop over to tie his own shoes. Six bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure made a new man of him. He says, "Success to Foley's Kidney Cure." Hoffman Drug Co., City Drug Store.

Admiral's Daughter to Wed.
Brooklyn, N. Y., June 13.—The marriage of Miss Ruth Gibson, daughter of Rear Admiral Gibson, retired, to Lieut. William T. Tarrant, U. S. N., will take place this afternoon at St. Bartholomew's church. The bride will be attended by her sisters, and the groom, who is attached to the Charleston, by his fellow officers. A reception will follow the ceremony.

W. R. Ward, of Dyersburg, Tenn., writes: "This is to certify that I have used Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup for chronic constipation, and it has proven, without a doubt, to be a thorough, practical remedy for this trouble, and it is with pleasure I offer my conscientious reference." Hoffman Drug Co., City Drug Store.

Drive Hundred Men to Plow.
Moorea Hill, Ind., June 13.—Commencement week at Moorea Hill College began today. The principal feature of the exercises will be the breaking of ground for the new administration building, at which Gov. Hadley will drive 100 men to a plow.

The Fountain Pen.

The fountain pen is not an invention of recent years. In Samuel Taylor's "Universal System of Shorthand Writing," published in 1790, we find proof of the fountain pen's great age. "I have nothing more to add," wrote Samuel Taylor, "for the use or instruction of the practitioner, except a few words concerning the kind of pen proper to be used for writing shorthand. For expeditious writing some use what are called fountain pens, into which your ink is put, which gradually flows when writing, from thence into a small pen cut short to fit the smaller end of this instrument, but it is a hard matter to meet with a good one of this kind."

The Fork.

It is about 1,000 years ago since the fork made its appearance in Europe. In 90 A. D. a son of the doge Pietro Orsello had wedded in Venice the Byzantine Princess Argile, who produced at the wedding breakfast a silver fork and gold spoon. Then the high Venetian families followed suit, and these martyrs to fashion picked their lips with the new instrument. The fork prospered, however, and spread over Italy. In 1379 it had traveled as far as France, and in 1608 a traveler brought it direct to England.

Both Hate Him.

"Funny talk," remarked Wilson musingly. "Tom Wilson and Edith Brown used to be great friends of mine. I introduced them to each other. They got married, and now neither of them will speak to me. Wonder what the reason can be?"

Cross Purposes.

The Clever Ones.

Griggs—Some men are born great, others achieve greatness. Briggs—Yes, and others simply have the trick of making other people think they're great.

Will Cure Consumption.

A. A. Herren, Finch, Ark., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best preparation for coughs, colds and lung trouble. I know that it has cured consumption in the first stages." You never heard of any one using Foley's Honey and Tar and not being satisfied. Hoffman Drug Co., City Drug Store.

Other talcum powder may cost you more than Ramsey's, but it's impossible to secure a better flesh powder at any price. A full one-pound package for 25 cents.
